A Brief History of Bonneville Joint School District 93

Early 1900s — The current District's area included ten different school districts.

1950 — Consolidated District 93 included rural students and some students on the east side of Idaho Falls.

District 93 was comprised of seven schools: Ucon, Ammon, Iona, Lincoln, Coltman, Fairview and St. Leon.

1954 — District 93 had 600 junior and senior high school students and 900 elementary students; kindergarten was held during the summer months.

1957 — Bonneville High School opens for grades 7-12.

1960 — Hillview Elementary opens.

1962 — Enrollment doubles!

1965 — Falls Valley Elementary opens.

1976 — A new Bonneville High School was built and the old building became Bonneville Junior High.

1981 — Cloverdale Elementary opens.

1987 — Tiebreaker and Ucon Elementary schools and South Bonneville Junior High are built.

1992 — Iona Elementary and Hillcrest High School open.

1992 — Bonneville Junior High becomes Rocky Mountain Middle School and South Bonneville Junior High becomes Sandcreek Middle School.

1995 — First alternative high school, "Fairview South", opens on Telford Road, later becoming Lincoln High School and relocated to the old Lincoln Elementary.

2006 — Rimrock and Woodland Hills Elementary schools open.

2008 — Bridgewater and Discovery Elementary schools and Bonneville Online School open.

2010 — Mountain Valley Elementary opens.

2012 — Technical Careers High School opens.

2013 — Summit Hills Elementary opens.

2014-15 — Current student enrollment 11,812.
5th largest school district in Idaho.
